the Shop Rag

A monthly publication filled with industry news, maintenance and safety tips, upcoming events, special coupons, and more!

wraps can go as high as $10,000 or more, depending on the difficulty, the materials, and the size of the vehicle. Wrapping inside the doorjambs, for instance, can take an additional time also adding to the price.

That's a Wrap!

Looking to jazz up that old paint job on your car or truck? While wraps have become very common on commercial vehicles, they are also becoming popular with those looking to make a statement with their private vehicles.

Wraps can start as low as $2000 for a small two-door cars and start around $3500 for larger cars and small SUVs and trucks. Special treatments such as a carbon-fiber or chrome finish can increase the starting price to as much as $6000. The most exotic

If money is not an issue, the sky is the limit!

That Fresh Car Smell...

Instead of buying car air fresheners that you hang from a rear-view mirror, try placing some dryer sheets under car seats. You can even use ones that have already been used in your dryer! They are out of sight, smell great and can easily be replaced any time you finish your laundry.

Car Care Tip of the Month!

When is the last time you checked your tire tread for abnormal wear? Or your tire tread for adequate depth? It only takes a minute and can make sure you and your passengers are safer while on the road. If you're not sure, just stop by Graeves Auto & Tire for a free inspection!

Refresh not Replace...

Windshield wipers can become a safety hazard when they begin smearing water on your windshield limiting your view. If your wipers are not clearing water properly, you may not need to replace them. Try wiping the blades with some rubbing alcohol along the entire edge. If this doesn't work, it is probably time to replace your wiper blades.
